

Darling Downs Environment Council (DDEC)

DDEC is a peak regional environment group dedicated to the preservation and protection of the environment (natural, built, and managed) and the enhancement of values which promote sustainability.

- » DDEC was formed in 2014 when concerned community members recognised that there was a need for a community-based organisation to provide guidance to groups and individuals concerned with environmental matters.
- » We are concerned in particular, about the diminishing land and water resources on the Darling Downs and are driven by the principles of inter-generational equity.

What we do...

We bring together people from our region who care about the environment.

We campaign to save what remains of this region's special natural values.

We support replacing unsustainable industries with viable alternatives.
