

Queensland Conservation Council (QCC)

Protect. Conserve. Sustain.

QCC is an independent, community environment organisation. We are the representative voice for environment groups and their supporters in Queensland.

- » We have been working to protect, conserve and sustain Queensland's environment since 1969.
- » Our vision is for a Queensland in which nature thrives, wildlife is protected, our industries don't cost the earth, and our communities are in balance with the health of the ecosystem.
- » We act as the peak body for Queensland's environmental movement, representing over 50 community environment groups across the state.

Some of our campaigns

QCC's current top priorities are creating more protected areas like National Parks so nature can thrive, and accelerating the switch from polluting coal-power to clean renewable energy.

- » Well-managed national parks and private land reserves are our best chance to protect endangered wildlife, conserve nature for future generations and protect cultural values. We urgently need more land managed effectively for endangered wildlife, which are under pressure from a tsunami of threats.

- » QCC is campaigning to ensure that all Queenslanders can look forward to a safe and prosperous future, where coal power stations are replaced by clean renewable energy.

- » We are at a critical point in the battle to save our beautiful natural environment from climate change. There is still time to act - but it is running out fast. Right now, we need to demonstrate that Queenslanders want bold action on climate.
